U.S. Savings Bonds

The US Treasury has announced that the annual purchase limit for US Savings Bonds has been set at $5000 per social security number. The limit applies separately to Series EE and Series I savings bonds, and separately to bonds issued in paper or electronic form. An individual can buy a maximum of $5,000 worth of electronic and paper bonds of each series in a single calendar year, or a total of $20,000, in single ownership form. If paper bonds are issued in co-ownership form, the limit applies to the first-named co-owner. All limits are based on the issue price of the securities.

What does this mean to you?

You can only purchase $5,000 in Series EE savings bonds and $5,000 in Series I savings bonds in a calendar under your own social security number. If you want electronic bonds, they have to be purchased through Treasury Direct.

Bonds purchased as gifts should be registered in the social security number of the recipient if possible.
